

Virginia and Ralph Cava spoke with the Theatre Class. Virginia is the Drama Club's resident costumer but also works with the North Fork Community Theatre and several other drama troupes in New York City, Her brother Ralph has been involved in professional scenic design for over forty years and has worked in film television, and opera. They inspire students by showing that there is room for everyone in the theatrical world, not just those who want to appear on stage. After speaking with the students, Ms. Cava involved the students in organizing and cataloging the Drama Club's costume collection. With her guidance and direction, the costume collection space will be extremely functional for years to come.
